++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly clear but widespread rain arriving overnight.

This Evening and Tonight:
A cloudy evening with the odd patch of rain. During the night, a large band of heavy rain moves in from the southwest, falling as snow, particularly over hills. Lightest in the north. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Saturday:
Outbreaks of heavy rain continuing for most, increasingly falling as snow, potentially causing disruption. Turning drier in the afternoon with clear spells by evening. Windy, particularly along the south coast. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A bright and frosty start on Sunday, with rain and strong winds later, particularly in the south. Cold, dry, and sunny spells on Monday. Milder Tuesday but with blustery rain.
